LOVING WITHOUT POSSESSING.
GIVING WITHOUT EXPECTING.
LETTING GO WITHOUT BREAKING.

True love is an act of courage. It is a conscious choice made every day, never imposed. It means allowing space for the other's freedom, even when it hurts. It is the dignity of those who can close a door without carrying the weight of what no longer is.

From May 6 to 18, 2025, Galleria Cael in Milan will host a collective exhibition entirely dedicated to female voices who, through art, express the transformative power of love free from possession, imposition, and emotional dependence.

"Oltre le catene: l'essenza della libertà" was born from the desire to give voice to the inner strength of women who have chosen to love without possessing, to let go without breaking, to turn pain into rebirth.

Through powerful and deeply personal works, the selected artists explore essential themes such as connection and autonomy, courage, dignity, and emotional freedom.

On View at Galleria Cael: paintings, photographs, material installations, and conceptual pieces that reflect on identity, conscious intimacy, and self-determination.

These artworks become visual symbols of emancipation and renewal, guiding the viewer through a journey into the female experience beyond all constraints.
